- (a) Requesting in writing to have his/her registration cancelled at his/her own will
- (b) Failing to complete his/her education within the maximum period
- (c) Expulsion from the University in accordance with the Student Disciplinary Code
- (d) In cases in which acceptance and admission conditions to the university have not been fulfilled, but the situation is realized at a later time or it has been determined that the documents or information provided during registration are incorrect or incomplete.
- (e) For students with TRNC citizenship, failing to register or renew registration for 8 consecutive semesters; for foreign students, failing to register for 3 consecutive registration periods or failing to attend any classes for 2 consecutive semesters without a valid excuse, in accordance with the provisions of the 'Regulation on the Admission, Registration, and Transfer Requirements for International Students Who Are Not Citizens of the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus or the Republic of Turkey to Undergraduate, Associate Degree, and Graduate Programs of Higher Education Institutions' under the TRNC Higher Education Law; and for students with Turkish citizenship, failing to renew registration for 8 consecutive semesters, and receiving a statement of compliance from YÖK regarding their final status. (The duration conditions regarding failure to register or renew registration may be applied as 2 semesters upon the decision of the Rectorate, if deemed necessary.) (Amendment; Senate No: 2024/03, 2024/04, 2024/06, Date: 09/05/2024, 06/06/2024, 26/09/2024)

(2) The student contribution/tuition fee received within the framework of the relevant legislation for the student who cancels his/her registration before the registration and/or registration renewal process is completed is processed as it is specified in these regulations. If there is a student contribution/tuition fee paid for the previous semesters, this amount is not refunded, only the secondary education diploma is returned.

39. Late Registration

- (1) A student may register late based on a justification to be accepted by the Rectorate. The late registration period for the student who re-registers is 2 weeks following the start date of the courses. In special cases, additional time may be granted by the Rectorate within the framework of YÖDAK/YÖK decisions. The amount of additional fee to be applied for late registration is determined by the Board of Trustees and applied by the Rectorate.
- (2) Students are required to renew their registrations at the beginning of each semester and within the periods announced in the academic calendar, by paying the necessary fees and having their course schedules approved. Students are responsible for the entire registration renewal process.
- (3) The fact that the student has paid the registration fee does not mean that he/she has registered for the course.

CHAPTER FOUR

Curriculum and Course Registration

40. Programme Curricula

- (1) The curriculum of undergraduate and associate degree programmes is determined by the proposal of the departments, the proposal of the relevant board and the decision of the Senate.
- (2) The credit values of the courses are arranged as ECTS credits and local credits.
- (3) A curriculum is arranged in such a way that there are 30 ECTS credits in a semester, and 120 ECTS credits for associate degree programmes and 240 ECTS credits for undergraduate programmes in total.
- (4) Within the periods specified in the academic calendar, new courses can be added or removed from the curriculum with the reasoned proposal of the relevant department/programme, the decision of the relevant board and the approval of the Senate. With the decision of the relevant board, the courses in the teaching plans can be offered or not. However, the credits, course codes, names and type (compulsory or elective or shared) of the courses in the existing plans cannot be changed.
- (5) Shared compulsory courses, compulsory courses and elective courses and the prerequisites of these courses, if any, are specified in the curriculum.
- (6) The education plans determined by the Senate are put into practice from the beginning of the following education term.

41. Registration for Courses

Students must renew their registrations between the dates specified in the Academic Calendar announced by the Rectorate:

- (1) The courses that the student will register for at the beginning of each semester are determined by the recommendation of the advisor and/or the approval of the relevant Department Chair, taking into account the provisions of these regulations. The student must have fulfilled their financial obligations in order to be eligible to register for the courses.
- (2) The student is obliged to register for the courses in the first year of the programme he/she is registered for, provided that the courses are offered for the first and second semesters. Students in the first year of the programme can enrol in part-time status with the proposal of the Department Chair or the School Director and the approval of the Rectorate, if they have a reasonable justification.
- (3) Students at the Preparatory School cannot enrol in the programme courses.
- (4) Students who fail to graduate from a registered programme within the given time limit are not allowed to register for any courses.

42. Course Load

The number of credit courses specified in the programme in which the student is registered for each semester constitutes the course load of that semester. Non-credit courses are not counted as course load. However, with the recommendation of the relevant advisor and the approval of the Department Chair or the School Director, the course load of a student in a semester is:

- (1) A maximum of two courses that can be reduced according to the normal course load of that semester. In this case, the student has to take the courses that he has not taken in the first semester when those courses are available.
- (2) According to the normal course load of that semester, a maximum of one course can be increased. For this, the student's Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) or Semester Grade Point Average (GPA) must not be below 3.00.

- (3) Course load of graduating students with no academic warnings can be increased by three courses. For students in the graduation period; a student at the graduation semester is the student who has maximum three courses to complete and is given the right to graduate upon the successful completion of these three courses. In determining the course load, non-credit courses and credit courses that are not considered as normal course load by the Senate are not taken into account. Fees for extra courses to be taken are determined by the decision of the Board of Trustees.

43. Course Prerequisites

- (1) In order to be able to enrol in courses that require prerequisites, it is necessary to get at least a "D" grade from the prerequisite courses.
- (2) Students in the graduation period can enrol in courses that require prerequisites, together with the prerequisite courses from which they have received "F" or "D-" grades.
- (3) In all semesters, including the graduation semester, if the prerequisite course has never been taken before or if it has been taken and a student obtained an "NG" or "W" grade from it, it cannot be taken together with the course that requires prerequisite.
- (4) In special circumstances, the Faculty or School Board is authorised to make decisions regarding the prerequisite conditions of the courses.

44. Course Repetition

- (1) A student who obtains a "D-", "F", "NG" or "U" grade from a course is obliged to register for the course again in the first semester it is offered. However, in units where a semester sector internship is necessary, the student is provided with a chance to repeat the course after the completion of the internship upon the approval of the head of the relevant academic unit.
- (2) If the course that needs to be taken again is an elective course or a course that has been excluded from the programme, instead of this course the student can register for another course which is approved by the Department Chair or the School Directorate.
- (3) It is possible for the student to repeat some of the courses s/he has taken before to raise his/her grade with his/her consent. The grade received from the repeated course replaces the grade received previously; however, the first grade obtained is not deleted from the transcript.

45. Course Selection

The priority principles to be applied in course selection are as follows:

- (1) Courses with "F", "NG", "U", or "D-" grades.
- (2) Courses with a "W" grade.
- (3) Compulsory courses not registered in previous semesters.
- (4) Compulsory courses not registered in the current semester.

Students, with the approval of the advisor, can transfer the elective courses of the current semester that they have never taken to the following semesters or register for courses from the upper class.

46. Overlapping Course Registrations

The following application, indicated in order of priority, is followed for irregular students (especially those who do double major or minor education, students who take the course from a prior class or from the upper class, etc.) in order not to disadvantage them due to absenteeism,

- (1) Emphasis will be placed on offering the University's and Faculty's compulsory and elective common courses for more than one student group and on different days/times so that the courses of students from different groups do not overlap.

- (2) Where there is more than one overlap, priority will be given to the minimum time overlap.
- (3) In cases in which one of the overlapping courses is the course that the student has taken before, participation in the new course will be sought.
- (4) If both of the courses in which the student registers are new courses, attendance will be evaluated over the total.

47. Description and Values of the Course Term Grade

- (1) The course success grade is given as a single grade, taking into account the scores to be obtained from mid-term exams, homework, projects, presentations and similar assignments, and the final exam/ re-sit exam scores.
- (2) At the beginning of the semester, the course instructor informs the students about how the course success grade will be calculated by taking into account the percentages of each assignment and exam.
- (3) The success of the students in the courses is determined in consideration with the results of the exams, homework and other assignments they have completed throughout the semester as clearly indicated in the course syllabus within the framework specified below, by the course instructor. There are numerical coefficients between 0.00 and 4.00 equivalent to letter grades to be used in GPA calculations.
- (4) The coefficients of the course success grades in the quadruple system and their equivalents out of one hundred points are indicated in the chart below:

Letter Grade	Grade Range	Coefficient	Description
A	90 – 100	4.00	Successful
A-	85 – 89	3.70	Successful
B +	80 – 84	3.30	Successful
B	75 – 79	3.00	Successful
B -	70 – 74	2.70	Successful
C +	65 – 69	2.30	Successful
C	60 – 64	2.00	Successful
C -	55 - 59	1.70	Conditional Pass
D +	51 - 54	1.30	Conditional Pass
D	46 - 50	1.00	Conditional Pass
D -	41 - 45	0.70	Unsuccessful
F	0 - 40	0	Unsuccessful
NG	Not Attended	0	Fail due to absence
S	Satisfactory	...	Successful
U	Unsatisfactory	...	Unsuccessful
I	Incomplete	...

W	Course Withdrawal	...
Ex	Exempted	...

- (5) The student is required to receive one of the letter grades A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C-, D+, D, S as the semester success grade in order to be considered successful in the course he/she is registered for,
- (6) In cases where the students are unsuccessful from the courses to which they registered, course success grades as below are given;
- (a) F grade for students who fulfilled the requirements of the course and are eligible to take the end-of-term Final Exam but did not sit the exam or failed this exam,
- (b) NG grade is given to students who are not eligible to sit the end-of-term exam because they did not fulfil the attendance requirement or other course requirements.
- (7) Only students who are successful in internship, applied courses or non-credit courses that are evaluated as successful or unsuccessful are assigned a grade of S (satisfactory) as successful and grade of U (unsatisfactory) as unsuccessful.
- (8) "I" grade is assigned to students who, for a valid reason, did not sit the final exam and/or fail to fulfil some of their workshop/laboratory assignments and similar obligations that have a role in calculating the semester grade. The course requirement regarding "I" must be completed 1 week before the registration date of the semester which follows the semester in which "I" grade was obtained, otherwise the "I" grade will automatically turn into an "F" grade. However, if the student's excuse continues, the time and conditions for completion of the "I" grade are discussed and decided by the Faculty Board upon the proposal made by the relevant Department Chair. Compliance with the above-mentioned deadlines is not required for students who are in the graduation status. The situations of these students are discussed and decided by the Faculty Board. The "I" grade is not taken into account in the calculation of the semester average (GPA) and general average (CGPA) until it is converted to another grade. The students are eligible for an "I" grade as long as they submit their excuses and related documents to the Academic Personnel of the relevant course within 3 working days at the latest following the end of term Final Exam date.
- (9) NG grade is assigned to students who do not fulfil their attendance requirements. The "NG" grade is treated like an "F" grade and is included in the calculation of the student's GPA and CGPA.
- (10) "W" grade is given to the student who withdraws from the course upon the written application of the student. "W" grade is not taken into account in the calculation of the academic average, but is shown in the transcript. A student is eligible to withdraw from a maximum of four courses in undergraduate programmes and a maximum of two courses in associate degree programmes during their education. The application for withdrawal from the courses is made on the dates indicated in the academic calendar. When calculating the academic average of the student who withdraws from a course registered in a previous semester in order to improve the C-, D+ and D grades, the previous grade is considered valid. A student is not eligible to withdraw from a course that s/he has previously withdrawn from, a course that s/he has to repeat or a course which is not considered in the calculation of averages. Students can withdraw from a maximum of 2 courses in a semester, provided that they do not fall behind the minimum course and credit conditions.
- (11) A student who obtained one of the grades as (D-), (F), (U), (W) and (NG) in a compulsory course in the department shall register for that course in the first semester prioritising the courses of the prior class.

48. English Preparatory School Programmes and Exams

English Preparatory School Programmes are subject to the provisions of the ARUCAD Education, Training and Examination Regulations

49. Examinations and Evaluations

- (1) A minimum of 1 and a maximum of 2 Mid-term Exams and a Final Exam can be administered each semester. Short-term exams (quizzes) that do not exceed half an hour are excluded from this limitation.
- (2) At the commencement of each semester in which the course is offered, the course content, number and weighting of the exams to be administered, including the project, as well as the content of the laboratory/workshops, if any, and the number and weightings of the exams are documented by the Academic Staff. The Department Chair and the registered students are notified in writing or the information is announced on the course website.
- (3) The students are obliged to fulfil the course requirements such as the projects, laboratory/workshop assignments envisaged for a course. A student who fails to complete these type of requirements is considered unsuccessful in that course.
- (4) Final Exams are administered at least 3 days after the end of the course, on the dates and times determined by the Rectorate.
- (5) A Mid-term Exam cannot be scheduled during the week before the end of the course.
- (6) The exam for each course is prepared and evaluated by the Academic staff member in charge. Coordination is essential in lessons with more than one group.
- (7) The weighting of the final exam must be minimum 30 percent and maximum 60 percent.

50. Attendance Obligations

- (1) Students are required to attend at least 70% of the theoretical courses. Participation and success criteria in laboratories, studios and other applied courses are determined by the relevant faculty and School Board, but the attendance rate shall not be lower than this rate.
- (2) Including the medical reports, students with 30% or more absenteeism are deemed to have failed the relevant course and the student is deemed unsuccessful in that course and receives an "NG" grade. (Amendment; Senate No: 2023/09, Date: 20/09/23)
- (3) Reports are evaluated only in case of non-attendance in the exam (Midterm and Final). The following conditions apply in the evaluation of the medical reports;
  - (a) In case of not being able to attend the exam, students are required to submit their medical reports to the relevant Faculty Secretariat within 3 (three) business days following the exam at the latest.
  - (b) The medical reports submitted by the student are distributed to the relevant academic staff member(s) by the Faculty secretary with the approval of the relevant Department Chair, and the original is forwarded to the Registrar's Office to be included in the student's file.

- (5) The course(s) for which the student has received an NG grade due to absenteeism are announced via the student information system (SIS) 1 week before the Final Exam.
- (6) Students who obtain an NG grade are not eligible to take the Final Exam and/or Resit Exam from the relevant course.
- (7) The sum of the additional absenteeism rights that can be granted with the recommendation of the Rectorate and the approval of the Board of Trustees, in extraordinary climatic events and similar extraordinary situations and force majeure reasons cannot exceed 50%.

51. Grade Point Average

- (1) The success of the student is determined by calculating the semester Grade Point Average (GPA) and the Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA).

- (2) The semester Grade Point Average (GPA) is the weighted average of the numerical values of the success grades of all the courses in which the student is registered in that semester.
- (3) The Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) is the weighted average of the numerical values of the success grades of all the courses that the student registered in throughout the education period.
- (4) Local credit values of the courses are mainly used.
- (5) Academic grade point averages are shown as two digits after the decimal point. The third digit after the decimal point is not taken into account in academic grade point averages.
- (6) In the calculation of the CGPA, the last grade obtained from the repeated courses is included in the evaluation.
- (7) All courses in which the student registered are indicated in the transcript.

52. Student Success

A student is considered successful at the end of a semester, if the semester average (GPA) is at least 2.00 out of 4.00 which is the highest attainable grade. If a student registered to a programme in a department with the required course load, scores a GPA between 3.00 and 3.49, s/he is designated an 'Honour' student, if the GPA is between 3.50 and 4.00 s/he is designated a 'High Honour' student.

53. Unsuccessful Students

Unsuccessful undergraduate students are those whose Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) is below the following limits.

- End of Fourth Term < 1.50
- End of Fifth Term < 1.60
- End of Sixth Term < 1.70
- End of Seventh Term < 1.80
- Eighth and Later Semesters < 2.00

Unsuccessful associate degree students are those whose Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) is below the following limits.

- End of Second Term < 1.50
- End of Third Term < 1.80
- End of Fourth Term < 2.00

A student who has received the first academic warning;

- (1) is not eligible to register for a new course in that semester as the student is primarily required to re-register for the courses which s/he has failed with a (D–), (F) or (NG) grade.
- (2) is primarily obliged to reregister for the courses from which he/she has received an (F), (NG) or (D–) grade. However, if the courses from which the student has received an (F), (NG) or (D–) grade are not offered in that semester or the student cannot complete the required course load, the student is eligible to re-register for one or more of the courses from which s/he has received (D), (D+) or (C–) grades to complete the required course load.
- (3) and who registers for summer semester or in part-time status is eligible to register for only one new course.
- (4) in this status can register for a maximum of 2 new courses, provided that they do not exceed the required course load.
- (5) if there are courses that the students registered and received a (W) grade in previously, they are treated as new courses.

For those who have received two or more academic warnings;

- (1) The students are not allowed to register for new courses.
- (2) The student is primarily obliged to reregister for the courses from which s/he has received an (F), (NG) or (D-) grade. However, if the courses from which the student has received an (F), (NG) or (D-) grades are not offered or the student cannot complete the required course load, the students are allowed to reregister for one or more of the courses from which s/he has received (D), (D+) or (C-) grades to complete the required course load.
- (3) Since the courses with a (W) grade are considered as new courses, the student is not eligible to register for these courses.
- (4) Students who register for summer school or in part-time status are not allowed to register for new courses.

CHAPTER 5

Instructional Processes

54. Courses

- (1) University compulsory courses, department compulsory courses and elective courses are included in the university's education programmes.
  - (a) Atatürk's Principles and History of Revolution I, II; Turkish Language I, II and Foreign Language courses are the compulsory courses for TR and TRNC students. Atatürk's Principles and History of Revolution I, II; Turkish Language I and II courses are offered as 2 local credits and 2 ECTS each, and Foreign Language courses are offered as 3 local credits and 4 ECTS for two semesters. These courses cannot be substituted for departmental elective courses.
  - (b) Compulsory courses are offered in the period specified in the education programmes. However, the courses, which are the prerequisites of other courses and which, if unsuccessful, cause the student's education period to be extended, can be offered in fall, spring and summer semesters, provided that this does not constitute a problem in the education programmes.
  - (c) Quota restrictions cannot be imposed on compulsory courses. However, in cases where the students' number in a class or a workshop is high, the same coded course can be offered as more than one classes. In this case, a quota can be determined for each branch, taking into account the number of students who are required to take the course. Each of the compulsory courses offered as more than one group can be instructed under the responsibility of a different instructor. Evaluations in different group (exam, homework, etc.) can be made jointly or separately by the decision of the department board.
  - (d) Elective courses are the courses that all students enrolled in the relevant programme are not obliged to take, but are required for the field in which the student wishes to specialise in order to obtain the relevant formation. In order for students to take elective courses, a sufficient number of courses are defined and opened considering the number of students enrolled in the programme and the areas of specialisation of the students.
  - (e) The quotas and the quorum regarding the students from the department/other departments for the elective courses whose quotas are specified in line with their characteristics are determined by the reasoned recommendation of the relevant department, the decision of the relevant board and the approval of the Senate, and are announced before the registration renewal date specified in the academic calendar. In terms of the integrity of the instructional plans, students may be asked to choose a certain number of courses or a total of credits among the elective course groups.   - (g) Departmental elective courses are the courses that the students are required to choose, register and be successful in among the elective courses in the registered education programme. In the event of being unsuccessful in a departmental elective, it is possible for the student to register to another departmental elective instead of this course, however, the failed departmental elective course is included in the transcript.
  - (h) University elective courses consist of courses that support the programme in which the student is registered, or that provide the students with the opportunity to do a minor and/or double major, and the courses that the student would like to register in line with his/her area of interest. These courses can also be a departmental elective or compulsory course of a programme. The students are obliged to register to another university elective course and succeed instead of the university elective course s/he registered previously and was unable to succeed. The same course cannot be considered as both a departmental elective and a university elective course at the same time.
  - (i) Faculty elective courses, which students consider will contribute to their own personal development, are the courses offered by other departments of the faculty to which they are affiliated, by giving non-departmental quotas. These courses can also be elective or compulsory courses of a department. The students are required to register and succeed in another faculty's elective course instead of the faculty elective course that he has been unsuccessful in. A course cannot be considered as both a departmental elective and a faculty elective at the same time.
  - (j) Prerequisite courses are the courses that one or more of the courses in the previous semesters must be completed in order to be taken. These courses are determined by the proposal of the relevant boards and the decision of the Senate.
  - (k) Co-conditional courses are the courses that require registration to one or more of the courses offered in the same semester in order to be eligible to register. These courses are added/dropped in blocks or withdrawn from these courses in blocks. Co-conditional courses are determined by the proposal of the relevant boards and the decision of the Senate.
- (2) Departments can set quota for non-departmental students for the courses they offered for the students registered to their own programmes. A compulsory course for departmental students can be designated as an elective course for non-departmental students.
  - (3) Whenever necessary, the courses can be held outside the university buildings and office hours or on holidays, with the reasoned suggestion of the relevant department/programme, the decision of the relevant board and the approval of the Rectorate,
  - (4) Students enrolled in an undergraduate programme cannot register to the courses offered in an associate degree programme as compulsory or elective courses.

- (3) If they apply for it, students who are exempted from some of the first semester courses, are eligible to register in courses which will be offered the following semester or an upper class with the approval of their advisor and the decision of the relevant board within the first semester course registration or add/drop week.

- (4) Students who have to commence their education at the beginning of the second semester are eligible to register to the second semester courses without preconditions in addition to the first semester courses offered.
- (5) Students are obliged as a priority to take the compulsory courses, which are specified in the instructional plans and offered in the relevant level and semester in which the students are registered. (6) Students who are not able to complete their course registration process on time can complete their registration by the end date of the add-drop period. Course registration is not possible after the add-drop deadline.
- (7) Students are not eligible to attend the course for which s/he has not been registered, and fulfil his/her exam and other obligations. The student's fulfilment of these obligations does not mean that he/she is enrolled in the course, and the grades s/he obtained from the examinations are not recorded in his/her transcript.
- (8) Students are eligible to choose a course from another higher education institution with the reasoned recommendation of the relevant department/programme and the approval of the relevant board, provided that the language of instruction is appropriate. With the decision of the relevant board, except for the studies related to the diploma, this course can be counted as a common compulsory or elective course instead of a course which is included in the education programme. However, the sum of the credits of the courses registered from another higher institution cannot be more than one third of the total credits of the programme in which they are registered.
- (9) Students who are unsuccessful in a compulsory course that is excluded from the programme without being replaced by another course will not be obliged to reregister to that course and students complete the total credits required for graduation by registering to elective courses.

56. Course Exemption/ Course Submission

Course exemption procedures are conducted and evaluated within the framework specified in the Course Exemption and Equivalence Procedures Regulation.

57. Registering to Courses at Other Higher Education Institutions

Students are eligible to register to courses from other higher education institutions during the Summer School or via the Student Exchange Programmes. The regulations concerning course registration at other institutions are subject to “The Rules and Regulations for Taking Courses from Outside the University” which is enacted by the Senate.
